ABOUT THE PROFESSORSHIP

Queen's Law is home to some of the best minds and educational opportunities in the country. Business Law is one of the areas in which we are currently solidifying our role as a leader in Canada.

This Professorship will provide key leadership for our business law program by enhancing our teaching offerings in the area of business law and building the Faculty's national and international reputation for excellence in business law research.

Thank you to all our alumni and your support in raising an endowment of $1.5M in support of this new Professorship. This is the Faculty's first named Professorship, and a tremendous achievement for Queen's Law.

About David Allgood

David Allgood, Law '74, is Executive Vice-President and General Counsel for Royal Bank of Canada, and a former partner at Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt.

Since 2006, David has been an instrumental presence on the Dean's Council, as both Chair and Past Chair, and has provided leadership and insight in both re-engaging alumni in Faculty life and guiding the school through changes in the legal profession. His contributions to Queen's over the years have been enormous, including the teaching and mentorship of our students; matched only by his charitable work with the Holland Bloorview Kids Rehabilitation Hospital, Pro Bono Law Ontario, and Legal Leaders for Diversity.

Recognizing your Generosity

All gifts of any amount to Queen's Law are recognized in our Honour Roll of Donors, published annually in our Queen's Law Reports. Cumulative gifts over $25,000 are also recognized on the donor wall in the law school's atrium.
