

Faculty of Law
Term Adjunct Position Available
Academic Year 2017/18

Posting Date: July 17, 2017

Closing Date: July 30, 2017

The Faculty of Law, Queen's University invites applications from suitably-qualified applicants for the following course offered during the fall term of the 2017-2018 academic year:

Law 602 Corporate Governance (seminar)

This course examines the governance of publicly-traded corporations, focusing primarily on: corporate ownership and control, the balance of power between directors and shareholders, the role and function of the board of directors, the role of shareholder activists including hedge funds, and the legal and regulatory constraints on decision-making during hostile takeovers and proxy battles. While the focus will be on the law in Ontario and other Canadian provinces, attention may also be given to developments in the USA (as well as the UK and Europe where relevant), in order to gain deeper insight into the respective roles played by the courts and securities regulators.

Fall classes begin September 5, 2017 and end December 1, 2017 with exams ending December 21, 2017. The course is scheduled for Thursdays from 11:30 am until 2:30 pm.

The successful applicant will be required to teach 100% of this course, as scheduled. Anticipated enrollment in this seminar is 24. In keeping with faculty policy, the faculty may exercise its discretion to cancel any course with fewer than 10 enrolled students.

Qualifications:

Qualifications include a Ph.D. (preferred) or LL.M., prior relevant teaching experience and relevant legal experience, or a combination of the above. The successful candidate will exhibit strong potential for outstanding teaching contributions and a commitment to pedagogical excellence. As this position will entail the teaching of one course, together with office hours to meet with students, the incumbent will be expected to be on campus a minimum of one day a week during the teaching term.

The academic staff at Queen's are governed by a Collective Agreement between Queen's University Faculty Association (QUFA) and the University which is posted at:

<http://queensu.ca/facultyrelations/faculty-librarians-and-archivists/queens-qufa-collective-agreement>

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, and LGBTQ persons. All candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and Permanent Residents of Canada will be given priority.

To comply with Federal laws, the University is obliged to gather statistical information about how many applicants for each job vacancy are Canadian citizens / permanent residents of Canada. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or citizenship, however, all applications must include one of the following statements: “I am a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada”; OR, “I am not a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada”. Applications that do not include this information will be deemed incomplete.

A complete application consists of:

- Cover letter (including one of the two statements regarding Canadian citizenship / permanent resident status specified in the previous paragraph);
- Current and complete Curriculum Vitae;
- Teaching Dossier;
- Two referees who may be contacted.

The deadline for applications is July 30, 2017. Interested persons are encouraged to send all documents in their application package electronically as a PDF, addressed to Cherie Metcalf, Associate Dean (Academic), Queen’s University Faculty of Law and send to:

Sasha Lamont, Human Resources and Research Manager
Queen’s University, Faculty of Law
Telephone: 613-533-6000 ext. 74256
Email: sasha.lamont@queensu.ca

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant’s accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the recruitment process, please contact Sasha Lamont, Human Resources and Research Manager at sasha.lamont@queensu.ca.