Teaching Assistant Position
Winter 2020

Posting date: October 17, 2019
Closing date: October 31, 2019

The Faculty of Law, Queen’s University, requests applications from suitably qualified graduate students (MBA preferred) interested in a teaching assistant position for the following online courses:

LSM 830 Shaping the Future of Legal Practice (Online)
This course explores the economic, political, technological, and demographic forces that are disrupting the traditional modes of delivery of legal services. In the context of these disruptive forces, the course will examine the theory and practice of entrepreneurship and innovation in the context of a professional services firm. Finally, the course will explore how the legal profession can take advantage of changes in the delivery of legal services to improve access to justice for all.

Qualifications
Successful applicants will be expected to have the relevant education (MBA, MMIE or equivalent) and have expertise in the field relevant to the course. Preference will be given to candidates with superior writing skills, and excellent interpersonal skills include a demonstrated ability to successfully mentor entrepreneurial and innovation skills development in law students and junior lawyers. Applicants must be comfortable working in a team environment to consistently implement the course objectives. The ability to connect the learning objectives of the course to relevant practical experience is also required.

Candidates must be prepared to work outside the regular 9-5 work week, and have access to the internet and a computer that meets minimum requirements. Experience with learning management systems (e.g. OnQ) and video-conferencing software (e.g. Zoom) would be an asset.

Application Procedure
Applications should include a complete and current curriculum vitae, a statement of interest and relevant experience, the names and contact details of two referees who may be contacted, and any other relevant materials the candidate wishes to submit for consideration.
