Dear Queen’s Law Candidate:

How would you like to save money by paying lower interest rates while you’re in school? If you are a Queen’s University Law student, you are eligible to apply for our special offer: a Prime* + 0.5% interest rate on your Student Line of Credit.

A credit line is an easy way to have access to money when you need it. Once your credit limit is established, you can make withdrawals up to that limit from anywhere you bank with us: at an ATM, by cheque, at an RBC® branch, or you can transfer money to another account through RBC Royal Bank® Online Banking or Telephone Banking. Furthermore, you only start paying interest when you use it, and only on the amount you’ve used.

Here’s how the RBC Professional Student Line of Credit works:

- Credit limits up to $80,000

- While you are in school, you pay only the interest each month, at the preferred RBC Prime + 0.5% rate. (Interest is calculated monthly on your credit line’s daily closing balance, and charged to your personal bank account)

- You continue to benefit from the RBC Prime + 0.5% rate and interest-only monthly payments for up to 12 months after completing the program. We include your Articling year as being “in school”

- When you complete the program, we work with you to develop a repayment schedule. We offer repayment terms of up to 15 years, depending on your personal situation and the amount you owe.

- There is never any penalty or charge for you to make extra payments on to your loan, or pay it out in full.

In addition to the Professional Student Line of Credit, we also offer a Student Chequing account and an RBC Signature Rewards VISA. Both the Chequing account and VISA have waived monthly and annual fee options.
Interested in applying?

Please complete the application below, and fax it to our main branch in Kingston at 613-549-7006. I will send you an e-mail within 24 hours to let you know that I have received your application. You may also drop off your application in person at the address below.

I will let you know within one week if your application has been approved.

How do we evaluate applications?

All applications are subject to RBC standard lending criteria. In some cases, we may ask you for provide collateral security, or to find a qualified co-signer for your credit line. This is a standard practice in the banking industry, especially when people don’t have a credit history that we can check back on.

Thank you for your interest in our credit line. I look forward to working with you now and in the future.

Sincerely,

Michael Vieira

Collection and Use of Personal Information

Collecting your personal information

We (Royal Bank) may from time to time collect financial and other information about you such as:

- Information establishing your identity (for example, name, address, phone number, date of birth, etc.) and your personal background;
- Information related to transactions arising from your relationship with and through us, and from other financial institutions;
- Information you provide on an application for any of our products and services;
- Information for the provision of products and services;
- Information about financial behaviour such as your payment history and credit worthiness.

We may collect and confirm this information during the course of our relationship. We may obtain this information from a variety of sources, including from you, from service arrangements you make with or through us, from credit reporting agencies and other financial institutions, from registries, from references you provide to us and from other sources as is necessary for the provision of our products and services.

You acknowledge receipt of notice that from time to time reports about you may be obtained by us from credit reporting agencies.

Using your personal information

This information may be used from time to time for the following purposes:

- to verify your identity and investigate your personal background;
- to open and operate your account(s) and provide you with products and services you may request;
- to better understand your financial situation;
- to determine your eligibility for products and services we offer;
- to help us better understand the current and future needs of our clients;
- to communicate to you any benefit, feature and other information about products and services you have;
- to help us better manage our business and your relationship with us;
- to maintain the accuracy and integrity of information held by a credit reporting agency; and
- as required or permitted by law.

For these purposes we may:

- make this information available to our employees, our agents and service providers, who are required to maintain confidentiality of this information;
- share this information with other financial institutions; and
- give credit, financial and other related information to credit reporting agencies who may share it with others

Upon your request, we may give this information to other persons.
We may also use this information and share it with other companies under RBC Financial Group (i) to manage our risks and operations and those of other companies under RBC Financial Group, and (ii) to comply with valid requests for information about you from regulators and other persons who have a right to issue such requests.

If we have your social insurance number, we may use it for tax related purposes if you hold a product generating income and share it with the appropriate government agencies, and we may also share it with credit reporting agencies as an aid to identify you.

You’re right to access personal information

You may obtain access to the information we hold about you at any time and review its content and accuracy, and to have it amended as appropriate; however, access may be restricted as permitted or required by law. To request access to such information, or to ask questions about our privacy policies, you may do so now or at any time in the future by:
