Research Assistant

Posting date: August 31, 2020
Closing date: September 7, 2020

The Faculty of Law, Queen’s University, requests applications from suitably qualified LL.M or PhD students interested in a research assistant position for the below noted task.

Description:
A content analysis of the written and oral submissions to the Macdonald Hall Building Name Consultation process, or a representative sample thereof.

Qualifications:
Successful applicants must have relevant training in qualitative research methods, specifically content analysis. Relevant work experience in content analysis is an asset. Sufficient availability in September to dedicate to this task. Ability to begin immediately. Ability to work to short timelines and strict deadlines.

The RA must have access to the internet and a computer that meets minimum requirements. All work can be completed during the regular 9-5 work week, but candidates can work outside of that time frame if they prefer.

Application Procedure
Applications should include a covering e-mail explaining the candidate’s interest, relevant experience, and familiarity with relevant analysis software, an abbreviated CV, focusing on relevant academic and work experience, the names and contact details of two referees who may be contacted, and any other relevant materials the candidate wishes to submit for consideration.
